Are you interested in becoming a qualified educator in children's services?

Are you interested in obtaining a traineeship with an excellent employer who will provide you with training, mentoring and support to become a qualified childhood educator and professional?

Communities@Work through NuSkills Learning and Development, is now offering traineeships in our Child Care and Education Centres and School Age Care programs. You must be a self motivated individual who can demonstrate a commitment to working with children, studying a recognised qualification and a passion for working cooperatively with a team of professionals.

NuSkills Learning and Development is an early years education training specialist based in the ACT. Trainees will have the opportunity to work while they study toward a qualification and are assessed against their practical skills in the workplace through a mixture of class and workbook based assessments.

For further information we invite you to attend an information session on 18 March 2010 at 6.00 pm at the NuSkills Training Room, Tuggeranong Community Centre, 245 Cowlshaw Street Greenway.

To book your attendance at the information session, please call 6100 6674
